

New and semi-finished products

Intarsia ApS works with both classical and modern furniture design. Marquetry is prepared for many different purposes for both intermediate and newly manufactured furniture and utensils.

It could be a factory produced classical furniture made to resemble the original design as closely as possible. It could also be decorations of tabletops made either individual or in series – large or small.

A single marquetry decoration can give modern furniture a personal touch.

All projects are made to the customer's individual wishes and specifications. Careful preparation with drawings, material, choices and planning is the basis for the veneer work.

A large selection of handmade borders is available from stock. We supply for both vendors private clients.

Sale of veneer

Intarsia ApS has a large and unique veneer stock with beautiful veneers from around the world.

Many exotic wood types are among the more than 100 different veneers, which are available in many colors and with different characteristics.

This unique stock of beautiful veneers is the foundation of the company's production, but we also sell veneer in smaller pieces or batches to customers.

The company

Founded over 100 years ago, Intarsia ApS, the highly international recognized company, continues with new owners.

General Manager Ursula Dyrbye-Skovsted, cabinet maker and miniaturist, will continue the old traditional craftsmanship, where the keywords are: Accuracy, creativity and technical skills.

Among the very few in Northern Europe, Intarsia ApS masters the original marquetry methods.

With its expertise and old fashioned craftsmanship, Intarsia ApS solve tasks, which others have not been able to.

Intarsia

Intarsia is Italian and means inlaid work. The craft has its origin in ancient Egypt, where it has been practiced for 4-5000 years, and so it is one of the world's oldest crafts.

Throughout the ages, intarsia has been used mainly for decorating furniture and ship salons. But it is also used for gifts, pictures and decorating of ex. doors and flooring in the latest century.

Very few of the manufacturing processes have been modernized and the traditional craftsmanship is therefore largely unchanged today.

The main focus of Intarsia ApS is inlay work with wood veneer, but we also work with brass, mother of pearl and bone etc.

Intarsia ApS is a member of the Danish Antiquity Conservator Guild

Restoration

Intarsia ApS restore all types of furniture and antiques using the ancient craft methods. Both Danish and foreign furniture and antiques are restored.

Before restoration

After restoration

When restoring we emphasize re-creating characteristics in the original quality. We seek to preserve the history and patina of the furniture.

Large and small projects are completed with the same care and dedication.

The restoration is completed in close co-operation with the customer.

We handle insurance cases regarding restoration and renovation of damaged or broken antiques, furniture and fixtures with marquetry, full restoration or repair of minor injuries caused by moisture and fire damage.

An unusual gift idea

Intarsia ApS can deliver a wide range of gift items with marquetry like Boxes, Wine Trays, Images and Coaster with many different designs.

Jewelry with Sterling Silver and other gift items are made with marquetry as well.

All items are made with old manual techniques and are 100% Danish craft in high quality.
